

LEP2 - Machine and Physics

The campaign to increase the LEP centre-of-mass energy began in 1995, with the aim of reaching 200 GeV at the end of the year, and possibly exceeding this value in 2000. The measurement of the W mass and the search for Higgs bosons are the key issues of the LEP2 physics programme

Large Electron Positron Collider

